Dear Mr. XXX

It is so great to get that awesome letter back from you. To answer your questions. The smallest thing I ever built was a tiny ball. But it could not bounce. The biggest thing I ever built was a really big bird house last summer. But my dad hit it with a football.

Some things I did in science was learning about science light being refracted reflected and adsorbed. Now we are learning about sound. Some things I did outside of school was I went to columbus for a 5K. I came in 3 in my age group 15 and under. We also got a nice hotel with a pool. Before we left we went to Cosi then to a all you can eat chinese restaurant.

Now I have some questions to ask. Have you ever left this country. Also what your favorite thing you built. What was the hottest you ever heated up your powders. What was your least favorite thing you built.

Sincerely,
Lamar
